12 years
80+ Universities
100 programmes

Join a Global Leader Experience (GLE) and develop your ability to lead from a truly global perspective. Along with your fellow participants from across RMIT, you will play a part in tackling the biggest issues facing businesses, governments and societies worldwide.

The GLE will give you an immersive international experience, challenging you to adapt and thrive in a new context while establishing a genuinely global network. It equips you with the tools you need to lead change, now and in the future.

"I was exposed to different ideas and ways of thinking which really made me reflect on my own core beliefs and flexes. It was the most unusual yet amazing experience I've had till date!"

Why should you take part?

- Develop your leadership skills and grow Cultural Intelligence (the ability to cross boundaries and thrive in multiple cultures)
- Adapt and thrive in new environments
- Build new networks locally and globally with fellow students, contributors and leading employers
- Learn and practice the skills required to quickly understand and navigate complexity

What happens?

You will explore a major world challenge "How do smart cities ensure they are inclusive?" from a local perspective. You will meet visionary leaders from global businesses, governments and international not-for-profit organizations. This will help you and your fellow participants understand the challenge and find creative ideas to solve it.

Best of all, you won't be alone; you will build international connections and make new friends amongst this diverse group of participants. In addition, the solutions and knowledge you build will be passed to participants on other Common Purpose programmes around the world.

Who could you meet?

During the four days, you will direct your own learning, speaking to leaders from and visiting organizations such as:

- City of Melbourne
- IBM
- Koorie Heritage Trust
- Schneider Electric
- The Equality Project

Where do we run Common Purpose Global Leader Experiences?

Common Purpose runs GLEs in cities around the world, where large numbers of the world's talent convene to study, including London, New York, São Paulo, Johannesburg, Hong Kong, Singapore and Melbourne.

A global network

Everyone who finishes a Common Purpose programme, anywhere in the world, joins the Common Purpose 360 network - a 70,000 strong, growing, global community of our alumni with exceptional diversity and a huge range of skills, interests and leadership experiences.

Some will be very senior, experienced leaders across the public, private and NGO sectors, others will be emerging leaders and some will be fellow students just finishing university. This breadth and depth makes the network unique.
