

Course Experience Survey

2025 results

The Course Experience Survey (CES) provides students with the opportunity to tell us what they enjoyed in their courses and what can be improved.

• Quantitative •

23%

of students completed the survey in 2025 with an overall satisfaction of 4 out of 5.

24%

Higher education

20%

Vocational education

Below are some of the common themes from what we've heard from you, but as the survey is course-based, specific feedback will differ across courses.

• Qualitative •

What you said

You enjoy practical hands-on learning activities and want to see less passive content delivery

Online digital content can be improved

You want to have more opportunities to interact with teaching staff

What we're doing

We're working on ensuring our learning activities and assessments are relevant to your future of work and embedding industry partnered learning in all programs to deliver more engaging, practice based learning experiences.

We're improving access to higher quality learning materials by shifting to Open Educational Resources and investing in a user centred digital learning ecosystem.

We're continuing to strengthen teaching and assessment design providing students with interaction and feedback throughout learning, not only at the final point of submission.

Students have also provided feedback about workload and course pacing as well as improvements to communication and coordination which we continue to address as part of our regular review and continuous improvement processes. Students are encouraged to reach out to Course Coordinators directly if they'd like to know what has changed based on previous feedback.