Each selection task will be considered as part of the selection process. The following information is used to help us evaluate whether you have the necessary qualities to undertake our program.

Please note that this selection task is retained as part of official RMIT records. Selection tasks will not be returned to applicants. If you wish to retain a record of your work, please make a copy for yourself.

Section 4: Applicant statements

1. Outline and discuss the areas of fashion design and types of practice specialisations you would like to investigate in this program. Explain the context of fashion practice you would like to work in, relating this to your current career goals, research interests in fashion design and how this program will help you achieve these.

You may also wish to include how your work experience and previous studies has informed your research and practice interests. (maximum 300 words).

2. Provide details of academic achievements and professional experience including any work experience you are currently undertaking (maximum 150 words).

Section 5: Folio

In order for your selection task to be considered, you must include a folio of work.

You must supply a folio of no more than 15 pieces of work.

Your folio should contain pieces from your undergraduate studies, including any major graduating projects or collections produced and any professional projects undertaken. Your folio should be a combination of images, drawings, sketches, paintings, photographs or films showing the research and design experimentation that has led to the finalised design work. It should reflect your design, problem solving and technical skills with a focus on the following:

- evidence of research and conceptual analysis
- evidence of design process
- evidence of sustained written work
- finished garments or prototypes in physical or documented form
- publications, photographs, films or other forms of fashion communication
- evidence of how ideas were developed as well as finished work.

Your folio should include work that shows how the use of documentation has informed your design and research as well as the types of design processes you work with. Please include any other complimentary projects that might be from other discipline areas that also indicate the types of design specialisations you are interested in.

Submission instructions

- Upload your folio as a single PDF (maximum size 10MB). You can photograph or scan your work, but please make sure that it is in focus and well presented.

Or

- Provide a URL to your folio if hosted online (please provide the username and password if applicable). The folio work must be contained and visible on one webpage.

Under each image provide a brief explanation, including the purpose and background of the work (maximum 50 words).
