

Capstone Project Submission: Terms and Conditions form

Please attach a copy of this form to your RMIT University Library capstone or major works submission. All fields are required, unless otherwise stated.

Name of student work:

Creator(s):

By submitting the deposited item to the student works collection, you warrant that:

1. The information you provided in your submission is full and correct, and that
 - a. You are either the copyright holder of the deposited item, or
 - b. You are authorised by the copyright holder to submit the item to RMIT University Library
 - c. An authorised officer can amend submitted metadata to ensure accurate description of your work
 - d. The deposited material doesn't violate any copyright law.
2. The deposited material doesn't violate the privacy of the author/creator or others, in line with RMIT's Privacy Policy. It does not contain any personal details, including:
 - student numbers
 - signatures
 - home addresses
 - phone numbers
 - email address
 - contact details for you or others
3. You are providing RMIT University Library with a licence to publicly communicate, disclose, reproduce, broadcast, or publish the work, including online. RMIT does not obtain any ownership rights in the work or the copyright subsisting in it.

RMIT will keep your submission for five years, or longer, at the Library's discretion, before typically deleting it from our systems. It is strongly recommended that you keep an original copy of your work.

The licence to RMIT is non-exclusive, worldwide, and royalty-free. You can still deal with the work for your own purposes, including selling it. You also provide rights to RMIT University Library to take the necessary preservation actions to keep the deposited work accessible. This includes, but is not limited to, conversion of the deposited material to other formats and making copies of the deposited material.

Access options:

- Restricted limits access to current RMIT staff and students.
- Public access makes your work available to anyone worldwide.
- Public access Creative Commons makes your work available to anyone worldwide, allowing users to re-use your work. Use the Creative Commons licence chooser tool to help select the most suitable licence.

For group work submissions, all co-creators must agree on the same chosen Creative Commons licence.
