RMIT UNIVERSITY

Coursework Scholarships Office

Scholarships and Grants Terms and Conditions

September 2026

RMIT Coursework Scholarships Office Scholarships and Grants Terms and Conditions

Contents

1. Introduction 2
2. Accepting your scholarship 3
3. Communication/correspondence 3
4. Conditions and criteria of scholarships 3
5. Scholarship value and payments 8
6. Retaining your scholarship 10
7. Privacy and confidentiality 11
8. Specific scholarship conditions 12

8.1 Aboriginal Social and Emotional Wellbeing (SEWB) Scholarship 12
8.2 Airmaster Australia Grant 12
8.3 AMSI Scholarship 13
8.4 Andreas Florez Music Scholarship 13
8.5 Andreas Florez Music Travel Scholarship 13
8.6 Australian Dairy Blends Scholarship 13
8.7 BAE Systems Australia First Nations Scholarship in Engineering 14
8.8 BAE Systems Australia Williams-Hicks Scholarship in Engineering for Women from Regional Australia 15
8.9 Baidam Indigenous Scholarship 15
8.10 Beazley Scholarship 16
8.11 Boeing Scholarship 16
8.12 BMD Group Scholarship 17
8.13 Brimbank City Council Scholarship 17
8.14 Bruce Henderson Architects Scholarship 18
8.15 Building and Construction Foundation Scholarship 18
8.16 Built Scholarship 19
8.17 Calleo Indigenous Scholarship 19
8.18 Career Success WIL Grant 20
8.19 Carey Lyon Scholarship 20
8.20 Cedar Pacific UniLodge Melbourne Central and UniLodge Melbourne Flagstaff Accommodation Scholarships 21
8.21 Charles Blackall Journalists' Scholarship 22
8.22 Cheng King Law Scholarship 22
8.23 CitiPower Future Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship and CitiPower, Powercor and United Energy Future Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship 23
8.24 Cultural Visions Grant 23
8.25 David Phillips Memorial Scholarship 24
8.26 David Thomson Scholarship for Accounting, supported by Pitcher Partners 24
8.27 Delcon Group Women in Engineering Scholarship 25
8.28 Dr Glenn Baxter Memorial Scholarship 25
8.29 dwell Village Accommodation Support Scholarship 26
8.30 Dylan Alcott Foundation Scholarship 26
8.31 Emeritus Professor Brian Smith AO Scholarship 27
8.32 Emeritus Professor David Beanland AO Scholarship 28
8.33 Emeritus Professor John Jackson Scholarship 28
8.34 Emeritus Professor John Jackson Scholarship for VE 29
8.35 Emily McPherson EMBA Scholarship 29
8.36 Essendon Education Academic Community Scholarship 30
8.37 Evelyn Boekemann Scholarship 30
8.38 ExxonMobil Scholarship for Excellence 31
8.39 Gail E Donne Scholarship in Biomedical Science (Laboratory Medicine) 32
8.40 Gama-dji Grant 32
8.41 Gavin Teague Memorial Scholarship 32
8.42 Gerard Driesen Scholarship to Support VE Indigenous Students 33
8.43 George Alexander Foundation Scholarship 34
8.44 Gina Solomon Scholarship in Environment Studies 35
8.45 GJK Facility Services Scholarship 36
8.46 Grathelms Scholarship 36
8.47 GS1 Australia Logistics and Supply Chain Management Scholarship 37
8.48 H&H Group Indigenous Scholarship 37
8.49 Hacer Women in Construction Scholarship 38
8.50 Halim Family Women in Science Scholarship 39
8.51 Hay and Backman Supply Chain and Logistics Scholarship 39
8.52 Herbert and Ingle Litauer Scholarship 40
8.53 IDEA Photography Equity Scholarship 40
8.54 IDEA Photography Scholarship for Excellence 40
8.55 Inder Kaur or Inder Kaur Resilience Scholarships 41
8.56 Indigenous Commonwealth Accommodation Scholarship 41
8.57 Indigenous Commonwealth Education Scholarship 42
8.58 Indigenous Commonwealth Reward Scholarship 43
8.59 Indigenous Juris Doctor Scholarship 43
8.60 Indigenous Resource Grant 44
8.61 Indigenous Student Success Grant 44
8.62 Inge & Grahame King Scholarship for sculpture and printmaking 44
8.63 Irana Turynska Scholarship 45
8.64 Jack Ward Scholarship 45
8.65 Jacob and Charlotte Kahane Scholarship 46
8.66 Jayco Scholarship 46
8.67 Jillian Weaven Scholarship 47
8.68 John Bush Memorial Scholarship 47

8.69 John Storey Junior Scholarship in Mechanical Engineering 48
8.70 Journal Accommodation Support Scholarship 48
8.71 Judith Roberts Scholarship 49
8.72 Kapitol Group Scholarship 50
8.73 Lady Alice Northcote Scholarship 50
8.74 Laura Cook Scholarship 51
8.75 Lelia Kelly Long Scholarship 52
8.76 Liberty Scholarship 52
8.77 Lighthouse Club Australia Scholarship 53
8.78 LTI Scholarship 53
8.79 M80 Ring Road Pathways Scholarship 53
8.80 MAI Foundation Scholarship 54
8.81 Mainfreight Scholarship 54
8.82 Marina Radiology Scholarship 55
8.83 Marion Fletcher Fashion and Textiles Scholarship 55
8.84 Mason Family Trust Scholarship 56
8.85 MCHN (Maternal and Child Health Nursing) Scholarship 56
8.86 McMullen Nolan Group (MNG) Geospatial Science and Survey Scholarship 57
8.87 Melbourne Cricket Education Academic Community Scholarship 58
8.88 NABxRMIT Global BizTech Program Grant 58
8.89 NHP Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship 58
8.90 Ngarara Willim Grant 59
8.91 Ngarara Willim Postgraduate Coursework Scholarship 59
8.92 Orcadia Foundation Scholarship 59
8.93 Paul Tomkinson Scholarship in surveying 60
8.94 Peter Coloe Scholarship 60
8.95 Port of Portland Scholarship for Women 61
8.96 Professor Robert and Josephine Shanks Undergraduate Scholarship 61
8.97 QuadReal UniLodge Melbourne City and UniLodge Royal Melbourne Accommodation Scholarships 62
If you are a recipient of one of these Scholarships, you: 62
8.98 RG Kayler-Thomson Memorial Scholarship 63
8.99 RP Infrastructure & DCWC Scholarship 63
8.100 RMIT Accommodation Support Scholarship 64
8.101 RMIT Award for VE or HE scholarship 64
8.102 RMIT Equity Notebook Grant 64
8.103 RMIT Equity Travel Grant 65
8.104 RMIT Humanitarian Visa Scholarship 65
8.105 RMIT Indigenous Accommodation Scholarship 66
8.106 RMIT Indigenous Study Support Scholarship 66
8.107 RMIT Study Support Scholarship 67
8.108 RMIT Scholarship 68
8.109 RMIT Tech Ignite Scholarship 68
8.110 RMIT Technology Grant 68
8.111 RMIT Welcome & Sam and Nina Narodowski Asylum Seeker Scholarships 68
8.112 Rowe Scientific Scholarships 69
8.113 Rural Grant 70
8.114 Sam and Nina Narodowski Asylum Seeker Scholarship 70
8.115 Sam and Nina Narodowski Undergraduate Scholarship 71
8.116 Sam Papasavas Scholarship 71
8.117 Santa Singh and Balwant Kaur Scholarship 71
8.118 Sarah's Dream Scholarship 72
8.119 Sartori Memorial Scholarship 72
8.120 Scape Accommodation Support Scholarship 73
8.121 School of Art Honours Travelling Scholarship 74
8.122 Sir John Storey Aviation Scholarship 74
8.123 Sir William Tyree Engineering Scholarship 74
8.124 STEM Women in Computing Technologies Scholarship 75
8.125 STEM Women in Engineering Scholarship 75
8.126 Steve Ashton Scholarship 76
8.127 Susan E Williams Scholarship 76
8.128 Ted Dimmick Textiles Scholarship 77
8.129 Ton and Vo Family Scholarship 77
8.130 Uncle Brian McKinnon (Dodd) Scholarship 77
8.131 UniLodge @ RMIT Bundoora - Walert House Accommodation Scholarship 78
8.132 Victor Greenhalgh Scholarship 79
8.133 Westpac Young Technologists Scholarship 79
8.134 WIL Grant 80
8.135 Women in STEM Undergrad Scholarship 81
8.136 Yugo Accommodation Support Scholarship 81

1. Introduction

Before you accept your provisional scholarship offer, please read all of the following Terms and Conditions. If you accept a scholarship at RMIT it means you accept these Terms and Condition and agree to their requirements and conditions.

This Terms and Conditions document applies to the scholarships and grants administered by the Coursework Scholarships Office at RMIT University.

Note: RMIT University may make changes to these Terms and Conditions without notice. The most current version of these Terms and Conditions is located on the scholarship's website (www.rmit.edu.au/scholarships).

Key terms: Scholarships = scholarships, grants, bursaries, and awards offered by the Coursework Scholarships Office

Note, for scholarships administered by this office:

- A semester for higher education is a half year (1 January – 30 June or 1 July to 31 December)
- A semester/term for vocation education is a half year (1 January – 30 June or 1 July to 31 December).

Note: Commonwealth Prac Payment (CPP) is not considered a scholarship and does not impact the terms and conditions of any scholarship administered by the Coursework Scholarships Office.

2. Accepting your scholarship

Your provisional scholarship offer communication explains how to accept or reject your scholarship by the due date.

3. Communication/correspondence

We will send any correspondence regarding your scholarship to your RMIT student email account. Please check this email account at least weekly and ensure that there is space to receive emails. Students whose program have been discontinued and are no longer an RMIT student, will receive communication to their personal email account that was previously stored/entered in Enrolment Online.

Please note that if you do not respond to requests for information by the Coursework Scholarships Office by requested dates your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold.

Coursework Scholarships Office contact details:

Phone: Ph 03 9925 2811 Email address: scholarships@rmit.edu.au

4. Conditions and criteria of scholarships

2.1. Eligibility criteria

To receive a scholarship, you must meet the eligibility requirements, outlined on the scholarship's specific website www.rmit.edu.au/scholarships. Note: Unless a scholarship webpage specifically advises students enrolling in a research programs that they are included, they are not eligible to be considered for any of these scholarships.

Note: your continuing eligibility will be assessed on an ongoing basis each semester. If you do not meet the eligibility criteria at the time of assessment your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold.

2.2. Enrolment

To receive a scholarship, you must be enrolled in a program of study at RMIT in Australia (see 4.3 Enrolment load).

If you need to change your enrolment, you must follow the correct procedures. Visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials for more information. This will ensure that your scholarship is not affected.

You must always maintain an active ('enrolled') enrolment status unless you are on an approved leave of absence.

4.2.1 Changes to your enrolment

You must tell us of any changes to your enrolment via email to scholarships@rmit.edu.au . These changes include transferring to part-time or full-time study, taking leave of absence, deferring, or cancelling your study.

Note: if you make a change to your enrolment, it may affect your eligibility to receive a scholarship, the payment value, and when you may receive your eligible scholarship payments.

4.2.2 Re-enrolling

If you are re-enrolling in your program, please re-enrol by the last date in December for the following year as advised at https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials/important-dates

Note: if you have a 'discontinued' enrolment status or are not enrolled in any course/s on the University's student administration system your scholarship will be terminated or placed on hold.

2.3. Enrolment load

In your provisional scholarship offer communication you can find out about enrolment requirements for your scholarship payments. Most scholarships require recipients to be full-time enrolled. Check section 8 to see if your specific scholarship does allow part-time enrolment, if your scholarship is not listed in section 8, your enrolment must be full-time.

Full-time enrolment

Full-time enrolment for higher education students

If you are a higher education student, to maintain full-time enrolment you must be enrolled in your program at RMIT for at least 36 credit points or 75% standard enrolment load per semester/half year (half years are either: 01 January to 30 June or 01 July to 31 December).

A standard 100% full-time enrolment load is 48 credit points per semester / half year (half years are either: 01 January to 30 June or 01 July to 31 December). If you are enrolled in less than 36 credit points per semester/half year, you are enrolled part-time. If you have a flexi enrolment that spans across the year (greater than 6 months in duration), the credit points for that course will be divided equally into the two half year spans (e.g. 12 credit point course of greater than 6 months duration will have 6 credit points allocated to the first half of the year and 6 credit points allocated to the second half of the year).

Full-time enrolment for vocational education students

If you are vocational education student, to maintain full-time enrolment, you must be enrolled in your program at RMIT for at least 75% of your scheduled hours for a term/half year (term/half years are either: 01 January to 30 June or 01 July to 31 December).

As vocational education programs vary in the number of scheduled or nominal hours, please review the Enrolment Program Structure for your particular program.

Refer to RMIT Enrolment Policy (https://www.rmit.edu.au/up/about/policies-and-procedures) for more details on full-time load.

Part-time enrolment

Part-time scholarships are typically paid at a half rate of the advertised scholarship value. Not all scholarships permit part-time study, review section 8 for specific scholarship eligibility.

Scholarships paid to students enrolled part-time are considered taxable income (by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)) and you will need to include your scholarship value with your tax return to the ATO. RMIT will not withhold tax from your scholarship.

Part-time enrolment for higher education students

If you are a higher education student, part-time enrolment is 24 credit points or less or less than 75% of the standard enrolment load in your program at RMIT.

A standard 100% full-time enrolment load is 48 credit points per semester/half year (half years are either: 01-Jan to 30 June or 01 July to 31 December). If you are enrolled in less than 36 credit points a semester/half year, you are enrolled part-time.

If you have a flexi enrolment that spans across the year (greater than 6 months in duration), the credit points for that course will be divided equally into the two half year spans (e.g. 12 credit point course of greater than 6 months duration will have 6 credit points allocated to the first half of the year and 6 credit points allocated to the second half of the year).

Part-time enrolment for vocational education students

If you are vocational education student, to maintain full-time enrolment, you must be enrolled in less than 75% of your scheduled hours for a term/half year in your program at RMIT (term/half years are either: 01-Jan to 30 June or 01 July to 31 December).

As vocational education programs vary in the number of scheduled or nominal hours, please review the Enrolment Program Structure for your particular program.

Refer to RMIT Enrolment Policy (https://www.rmit.edu.au/up/about/policies-and-procedures) for more details on full-time load.

Part-time enrolment in exceptional circumstances

Some scholarships only permit part-time study in exceptional circumstances. Check section 8 for specific scholarship eligibility. If you are receiving a scholarship and need to study part-time with a scholarship that permits studying with exceptional circumstances, you must email a request to the Coursework Scholarships Office, with current supporting documentation that support your request. You may be asked to provide this request and supporting documentation by a due date. If you fail to do so, your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold.

Exceptional circumstances may include:

- a long-term medical condition, that prevents you from studying full-time on a medical basis.
- carer responsibility

These are not considered exceptional circumstances for having a part-time enrolment load:

- not passing course/s
- overloading your enrolment in a previous semester/s
- having approved credit exemption/s and no further classes to enrol into for that semester/program
- studying at another institute for credit exemptions
- working

Note: studying part-time with exceptional circumstances is not guaranteed, it is at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. Dependant on your type of scholarship, if your request is not approved, your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold.

Approved part-time students with exceptional circumstances

- Your scholarship is now considered taxable income (by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)) and you will need to include your scholarship value with your tax return to the ATO.
- Scholarship payments for approved students will be paid at a part-time rate of 50% (e.g. if you are approved part-time for the Orcadia Foundation Scholarship for one year, the scholarship value will be reduced from $5000 to $2500 ($1250 per semester)).
- Approved part-time students may be requested to submit new supporting documentation each semester/year depending on the circumstances to ensure the continued appropriateness of studying at a part-time enrolment load. If you fail to provide documentation when requested, your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold.

Not approved for part-time study.

- Scholarship placed on hold. If your scholarship permits being placed on hold for a semester, then payment may resume in the next semester when your full-time enrolment has recommenced, depending on your scholarship/credit points of study remaining. That semester of unapproved part-time load will count towards the duration of your scholarship, and it will also be considered as being on hold. Scholarships that are allowed to be placed on hold can be held for a maximum of two semesters. If you are not eligible for payment after your scholarship being on hold, your scholarship will be terminated (see section 4.6 Leave of absence).
- Scholarship terminated. Some scholarships do not allow any part-time enrolment load and/or being able to be placed on hold. In these cases, the scholarship will be terminated.

2.4. Duration of scholarship

The duration of your scholarship will be advised in your offer communication. Not all scholarship durations are the same and some will not cover you for your entire program length. A scholarship's duration cannot be extended. Your scholarship will be terminated with the end date of your scholarship.

Your scholarship's duration may be reduced based on the minimum credit points/minimum number of semesters you have taken to complete your degree (whichever is reached first) (as listed in the RMIT Handbook at https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/program-course-information). This can include if you:

- reduced your study load, which increases the time it takes to complete your degree
- started your program prior to the commencement of your scholarship
- received credit exemptions (also refer to 4.3 Enrolment Load)

Duration always relates to your program of study at time of offer and is not extended due to change of program (see section 4.7).

Example 1: a higher education student enrolled in a program where the standard full-time duration is three years to graduate and has failed four courses (48 points equal to one semester (half year) of study). The scholarship cannot be extended to pay for any enrolment past three years.

Example 2: a higher education student has received credit transfers equal to one year of a three-year program that they are studying full-time. The scholarship cannot be extended past two years of payment or 288 credit points.

If you have any approved semesters of part-time enrolment load, your scholarship duration will take this into account (where eligible) and be appropriately extended, see table below for examples:

Full time program duration	Semesters of full-time load	Semesters of approved part-time load	Scholarship duration
4 years (8 semesters)	6	4	5 years
3 years (6 semesters)	5	2	3.5 years
2 years (4 semesters)	0	8	4 years
2 years (4 semesters)	3	2	2.5 years
1 year (2 semesters)	1	2	1.5 years

If you have reached the maximum amount payable for a scholarship, you will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT whilst studying the same level of program.

See section 7 on academic performance and termination, and section 8 on individual scholarship requirements for further information

2.5. Deferment

Very limited scholarships permit the scholarship being placed on hold for a deferment of study. Visit section 8 for scholarship specific conditions. If your scholarship does not permit being on hold while your program is deferred, your scholarship will be terminated. You are welcome to apply for the scholarship again when it is next available if you are still eligible as per the eligibility criteria on the scholarship website.

2.6. Leave of absence

Not all scholarships allow recipients to take a leave of absence and keep the scholarship. View section 8 for specific scholarship conditions (e.g. one-year scholarships are not allowed to be placed on hold).

For scholarships where a leave of absence is not permitted, the scholarship will be terminated.

For scholarships which allow a leave of absence:

- no scholarship can be placed on hold in the first semester that you receive your scholarship, your scholarship will be terminated. Any monies already paid will be required to be repaid to the Coursework Scholarships Office
- if after your first semester of receiving your scholarship, you are then taking a taking a leave of absence from your program, you may also be able to put your scholarship on hold for a maximum of two semesters. You will not receive payments while your scholarship is on hold. Payments will recommence when you resume your studies and is subject to ongoing eligibility (as per details outlined in your original provisional scholarship offer communication, and these terms and conditions). Not all scholarships can be placed on hold
- where you have started to receive scholarship payments for a semester prior to taking a leave of absence, your next semester of study's payment maybe reduced to by those payments already made.

2.7. Transfer

You can transfer some scholarships within the same program level (e.g. a Bachelor of Arts to a Bachelor of Engineering, a diploma to another diploma). If original scholarship eligibility requires enrolment in a specific program, you cannot retain that scholarship if transferring to a different program.

Note: If you do want to change program, you should discuss this with the Coursework Scholarships Office to confirm that you still will be eligible to receive your scholarship. Not all scholarships can be transferred.

If you can transfer your scholarship to a new program, the length of your scholarship will not extend. Your scholarship duration is based on your original program and provisional scholarship offer communication.

If you currently receive an undergraduate scholarship and enrol in an honours year program, you will not be able to extend your undergraduate scholarship to cover your honours year program. You must apply for a new scholarship.

For more information on transfers specific to RMIT Study Support Scholarships, refer to section 8.

Note: no RMIT scholarship offered by the Coursework Scholarships Office can be transferred to another university or person.

2.8. Discontinuation of study

If you withdraw from your program, or your program is discontinued, your scholarship will be terminated. If you re-apply for the same program at a later stage, you will also need to re-apply for scholarships. Please advise the Coursework Scholarships Office if you are cancelling or have cancelled your enrolment.

If you cancel your program after the semester has started, and payment for that semester has started, any monies already paid for that semester will be required to be repaid to the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about payments, see section 6.

Note: if you wish to discontinue your program, please visit the RMIT website for further information on how to action this: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials/enrolment

2.9. Reporting and survey requirements

Most scholarships require the recipient to write an annual report / survey. Reporting normally occurs during August and those required to be complete a report will be emailed the details to your RMIT student email account. Typical responses include the impact of the scholarship on your education, how you spent the scholarship funds and your academic / future work objectives. This information, including your name and program will be included in annual reports to scholarship donors / committees, advertising of scholarships including on the website. Some scholarships also require the disclosure of student grades/GPA at the end of each semester/half year and/or year to the scholarship donor/committees.

Periodically, scholarship recipients may also be requested to complete an online survey regarding your scholarship. Please complete the survey if the Coursework Scholarships Office requests.

2.10. Media conditions

If you are a scholarship recipient, you irrevocably:

a) Consent to the University, its employees or agents:

- photographing/videoing you and using any image of you in relation to the scholarship
- using any written material that you have produced on your experiences at the University in relation to the scholarship (including report submissions)
- to be involved, if requested, in any scholarship related publicity

as the University thinks fit in its absolute discretion to promote the University, Sponsors of Scholarships, or any of the University's activities.

b) Acknowledge that all right, title and interest in or relating to any scholarship written material you have produced or images of you taken by or on behalf of the University belongs to the University absolutely for its own use. This also includes passing photos onto donors.

c) Release the University from any claim by you or on your behalf, arising out of the University's use of any scholarship written material you produce, photograph/video of you.

d) If requested, you will attend scholarship events and may be asked to take part in activities that promote your scholarship, such as public speaking, Open Day, donor engagement, media interviews and photography/videography. Any photos or video taken at these events may be used in accordance with this section and may also be provided to donors.

5. Scholarship value and payments

5.1 Value

The value of your scholarship is outlined in your provisional scholarship offer communication. The value may change if your scholarship permits part-time study or you become ineligible to receive your scholarship.

5.2 Scholarship payments

Your provisional scholarship offer communication will detail information about payment of your scholarship.

To be eligible to receive payment you must:

- have an Australian bank account
- accept your provisional scholarship offer
- maintain ongoing eligibility for your scholarship
- comply with any requests for information by the due dates as instructed in your provisional scholarship offer or other communication.

If you are asked to provide your bank details by a required date and you fail to do so the scholarship may be terminated.

It is your responsibility to add and update your own bank account details through Enrolment Online.

Payment schedules can be viewed through Enrolment Online and are subject to change without notice. You cannot request a change to the payment schedule.

- To access the Enrolment Online system, log in to myRMIT and select the link to Enrolment Online.
- select My student record – View Scholarships.
- select the current year and select the name of the scholarship.

Ineligibility and repayment. If RMIT has made an instalment payment towards your scholarship and you were ineligible to receive payment, you will be required to repay the instalment/s.

Payment method. Payments for most scholarships are made via direct deposit.

The following scholarships do not involve direct payment:

- dwell Village, Cedar Pacific, Journal, QuadReal, Scape, UniLodge @ RMIT Bundoora, and Yugo Accommodation Scholarships—recipients receive discounted rent
- Scholarships which pay tuition fees will be credited direct to the recipients account and not paid directly to the recipient. While RMIT will endeavour to make your tuition fee payments on time each semester, it is your responsibility to make sure that the funds to cover your tuition fees are paid into your student account prior to the due date for each charge, otherwise your fees will become overdue and the penalties, such as cancellation of enrolment, will apply (see the Overdue Fees and Penalties website: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials/fees-and-payments/overdue-fees-and-penalties). Do not ignore your invoice, and ensure you follow up any unpaid tuition fee prior to invoice due date. Invoices are emailed to your RMIT Student email account and are available online through Enrolment Online https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials/fees-and-payments/tax-invoices. Note: tuition fee payments do not cover payment of any the Student Services and Amenities Fee or any other fees and charges.

5.3 Taxation and Centrelink

Please seek your own independent advice from the relevant authorities on the effect, if any, that the scholarship may have on eligibility for Centrelink income support such as Austudy, Abstudy, Youth Allowance or any taxation implications.

You are advised to report your scholarship payments to Centrelink if you are in receipt of ongoing Centrelink payments. Your provisional scholarship offer communication must be retained for this purpose.

If Centrelink requests a scholarship reference number, please use your RMIT student ID number.

RMIT does not withhold tax from scholarship payments. If your scholarship is considered taxable income by the ATO, you will need to show your scholarship amount as taxable income in your tax return. Visit the ATO's "Is my scholarship taxable?" to determine if your scholarship is taxable income.

6. Retaining your scholarship

To retain your scholarship, you must:

- advise the Coursework Scholarships Office of any change to your enrolment such as (but not limited to) decrease in enrolment load to part-time, leave of absence, cancellation of enrolment, change of citizenship, change of program
- provide confirmation of your circumstances during the term of the scholarship, as requested
- write annual reports during the term of the scholarship, as requested
- attend any scholarship event as requested
- maintain enrolment in a program at a RMIT campus in Australia
- adhere to the University's academic and administrative policies
- adhere to the terms and conditions within this document.

You must also meet any additional criteria as:

- outlined in your provisional scholarship offer communication
- listed under individual scholarship entries in section 8 below
- listed under individual scholarship entries on the scholarship's website www.rmit.edu.au/scholarships

6.1 Academic performance

As a recipient of a scholarship, you must diligently and to the best of your ability, apply yourself to the successful completion of your program of study.

Some scholarships require your academic performance to be reviewed at the end of each semester/year to ensure the continuation of your scholarship. See individual scholarships in section 8 for further details.

For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa

6.2 Termination of a scholarship

6.2.1 Grounds for termination

Your scholarship will be terminated in any of the following circumstances:

- you have been paid the full amount of your scholarship
- you have been enrolled in the minimum number of credit points required to graduate (this minimum number includes any credit transfers you have been granted for your program)
- you have been enrolled in the equivalent of standard duration of your program (e.g. a 3-year degree of full-time enrolment has 6 semesters of enrolment)

- you have completed the program that you were studying (except for vocational education students if your scholarship approves pathwaying into a higher education program as per details in section 8, Specific Scholarship Conditions).
- if your scholarship is related to a work integrated learning (WIL) activity / placement and you leave the placement, or your placement is terminated early.

The Coursework Scholarships Office may terminate your scholarship if you have:

- discontinued your program or are not enrolled in a program
- failed to meet the eligibility criteria and the terms and conditions of your scholarship and by any due dates required by the University and/or the Coursework Scholarships Office
- provided false or misleading information when you apply for a scholarship or once you receive a scholarship
- have a record of general or academic misconduct from RMIT University
- been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
- breached RMIT policies and procedures, rules and/or regulations or State or Commonwealth laws.

In addition to the above, some scholarships have specific termination clauses. See section 8 for individual scholarships and their termination clauses.

6.2.2 Consequences of termination

Your scholarship will be cancelled, and you will not receive any further payments. In most cases, RMIT will request the repayment of scholarship monies.

6.2.3 Provision of false or misleading information

The offer and tenure of your scholarship is based on the information that you provide to the University. Your scholarship may be withdrawn at any stage if you provide incorrect information or withhold relevant information.

If you provide false or misleading information in an application or supporting documentation or once you have received a scholarship, this is grounds for disciplinary and/or legal action. Altering official documentation is also grounds for disciplinary and/or legal action.

7. Privacy and confidentiality

RMIT University values privacy and is committed to handling personal, sensitive and health information in accordance with the RMIT Privacy Policy and the privacy principles contained in the Privacy and Data Protections Act 2014 (Vic) and the Health Records Act 2001 (Vic).

The information supplied to the RMIT University by applicants is collected for the primary purpose of assessing your eligibility to receive a scholarship. Other purposes of collection include dealing with administrative matters relating to your application and ongoing scholarship, corresponding with you and/or the donor (including the Commonwealth Government for scholarships funded by them), and the compilation of statistics. Your confidentiality will be respected at all stages of the process.

8. Specific scholarship conditions

8.1 Aboriginal Social and Emotional Wellbeing (SEWB) Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you understand that:

- you will need to confirm your Indigenous eligibility with the Ngarara Willim Centre prior to the scholarship commencing
- your enrolment may be full-time or part-time. The value of your scholarship per semester will be determined by your enrolment load.
- the following information will be provided to the Victorian Aboriginal community-controlled health organisation (VACCHO) and the Department of Health (Mental Health and Wellbeing Division):
    - ongoing scholarship and program progression information
    - information for the provision of additional support
    - survey results (de-identified)
    - that your name, program and scholarship maybe publicly announced or otherwise published by the Department of Health and VACCHO
    - any other evidence as reasonably required by the Department of Health and VACCHO from time to time
- a scholarship may be terminated by RMIT University, in consultation with the Department, if you have not maintained satisfactory academic performance each semester
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- your scholarship cannot be held for a deferral of study (deferral = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester), it will be terminated
- it is expected that you will participate in an external evaluation of the scholarship, whereby your contact details will be provided to an external organisation for the sole purpose of undertaking the evaluation to ensure the scholarship is meeting its outcomes and for implementing continuous quality improvement.
- you will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change to your program as most program changes will be ineligible
- you will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the Department of Health and VACCHO with regards to administering this scholarship and for opportunities for that arise from having this scholarship
- you must acknowledge the Department of Health and VACCHO in all consequential media and documentation.

8.2 Airmaster Australia Grant

If you are a recipient of this Grant, you

- will not be able to take leave and keep this Grant
- understand that your scholarship cannot be held for a deferral of study (deferral = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester), it will be terminated
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.3 AMSI Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you

- need to follow any information provided to you as per the scholarship application / offer email
- will not be able to take leave and keep this scholarship
- understand that your scholarship cannot be held for a deferral of study (deferral = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester), it will be terminated.

8.4 Andreas Florez Music Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.5 Andreas Florez Music Travel Scholarship

If you are the recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must undertake an overseas mobility activity as per the detail in your scholarship application
- you must be enrolled in a course/s in RMIT's Enrolment Online relating to that travel. Your enrolment may either be full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - want to transfer or hold over this scholarship to a following period of time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
    - do not participate in your mobility activity/your activity is cancelled. All monies paid to you must be returned to RMIT. Please contact to the Coursework Scholarships Office to organise.
- understand that you cannot be awarded more than one scholarship/grant (of any type) to fund your mobility activity
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and the donor who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.6 Australian Dairy Blends Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.7 BAE Systems Australia First Nations Scholarship in Engineering

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information).
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester), it will be terminated
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- you must pass all courses at the end of each semester and have a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 1.0 for the scholarship to continue each semester or demonstrate extenuating circumstances that resulted in not being able to meet this requirement
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and BAE Systems who may be in contact with you independently about things such as meeting the donor, attending events, paid work placement
- if the work experience opportunity with BAE Systems is undertaken, you will be required to provide additional information to RMIT and/or BAE Systems for the purpose of obtaining (or verifying eligibility to obtain) an Australian Government security clearance. (https://www.agsva.gov.au/applicants/eligibility-and-suitability)
- understand that the scholarship may end if you have committed serious misconduct (as determined in accordance with the University's relevant policies and rules) or proven to have acted in a way that is prejudicial to, or brings discredit on, BAE Systems.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.8 BAE Systems Australia Williams-Hicks Scholarship in Engineering for Women from Regional Australia

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information).
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances

    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester), it will be terminated
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- you must pass all courses at the end of each semester and have a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 1.0 for the scholarship to continue each semester or demonstrate extenuating circumstances that resulted in not being able to meet this requirement
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and BAE Systems who may be in contact with you independently about things such as meeting the donor, attending events, paid work placement
- if the work experience opportunity with BAE Systems is undertaken, you will be required to provide additional information to RMIT and/or BAE Systems for the purpose of obtaining (or verifying eligibility to obtain) an Australian Government security clearance. (https://www.agsva.gov.au/applicants/eligibility-and-suitability)
- understand that the scholarship may end if you have committed serious misconduct (as determined in accordance with the University's relevant policies and rules) or proven to have acted in a way that is prejudicial to, or brings discredit on, BAE Systems.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.9 Baidam Indigenous Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- understand that your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.10 Beazley Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you

- are unable to study part-time without demonstrated extenuating circumstances
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

8.11 Boeing Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Boeing Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- are required to maintain a minimum semester GPA of 2.7 or greater, which will be reviewed at the end of the semester for your scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- must make yourself available to attend an RMIT ceremony, the date of which will be advised. Failure to attend (without extreme extenuating circumstances) may result in cancelation of the scholarship
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.12 BMD Group Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the BMD Group Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- are required to maintain a minimum semester GPA of 2.0 or greater for your scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

- will be offered an opportunity to participate in an eight-week (approximate) paid work experience placement with BMD. You will be required to enter into an employment contract with the company prior to activities commencing.
- must acknowledge the BMD Group in all consequential media and documentation
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.13 Brimbank City Council Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.14 Bruce Henderson Architects Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester or demonstrate extenuating circumstances that resulted in not being able to meet this requirement for this scholarship to continue
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients who receive this scholarship whilst study the Bachelor of Architectural Design are eligible to reapply for this scholarship when studying the Masters of Architecture and applications are open.

8.15 Building and Construction Foundation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- must acknowledge the Building and Construction Foundation Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation and to participate in appropriate promotional activities for the Building and Construction Foundation.
- must make yourself available to attend an RMIT ceremony, the date of which will be advised. Failure to attend (without extreme extenuating circumstances) may result in cancelation of the scholarship
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

8.16 Built Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- must acknowledge the Built Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation and to participate in appropriate promotional activities for Built.
- must make yourself available to attend an RMIT ceremony, the date of which will be advised. Failure to attend (without extreme extenuating circumstances) may result in cancelation of the scholarship

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

8.17 Calleo Indigenous Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- understand the annual value of your scholarship may change depending on your annual program GPA. If at the semester 2 result release date you have an annual program GPA of 3.0 or greater you will receive $10,000 in the following year, if you have a GPA less than 3.0, you will receive $7,500 in the following year
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.18 Career Success WIL Grant

If you are a recipient of this grant, you

- must accept this provisional grant offer and enter your bank account details by the acceptance due date
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - do not undertake the WIL placement (also known as internship, practicum, fieldwork, co-op) relative to the time of award
    - do not complete all required tasks
        - Written Reflection
        - Updated resume
    - if you leave your placement early or if it is terminated early
    - do not complete a Career Management Cred before your WIL placement starts
    - do not obtain a Supervisor's report (short evaluation) from your placement

- do not organise and participate in a final meeting with your Careers Consultant within three weeks after the end of your placement or by November/December (whichever is earliest)
- take any leave of absence
- change programs
- defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

8.19 Carey Lyon Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Carey Lyon Scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence if you applied for the scholarship as an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person.
- are required to study full-time. You are expected to maintain a full-time enrolment load of 48 credit points per semester in order to complete the Bachelors' degree in three years and the Masters' program within two years. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
  - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
  - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- understand that your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester. There can be no break of study between completing the Bachelor of Architecture Design and commencing the Masters of Architecture degree (e.g. completed the Bachelor in semester 2, must commence the Masters in semester 1 in the following year.
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- are not able to change programs and keep this scholarship (excluding having completed the Bachelor of Architecture Design (BP250) and progressed into the Masters of Architecture (MC163) in the semester immediately following completing BP250 – e.g. completed the Bachelor in semester 2, must commence the Masters in semester 1 in the following year).
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you with regards to meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.20 Cedar Pacific UniLodge Melbourne Central and UniLodge Melbourne Flagstaff Accommodation Scholarships

If you are a recipient of one of these Scholarships, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with the UniLodge property you have been allocated

- agree to pay:
    - a bond prior to the commencement of your tenancy at UniLodge Melbourne CBD or UniLodge Melbourne Flagstaff
    - a security deposit to confirm your room booking
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take leave
    - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
    - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
    - you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one/each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- acknowledge that RMIT and UniLodge will respect your privacy however, disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed
- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break the lease prior to the end date incurs fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes vacation periods and should you wish to return home during these periods, you are still liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with UniLodge Melbourne Central or UniLodge Melbourne Flagstaff.

8.21 Charles Blackall Journalists' Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- acknowledge that the scholarship funds must be entirely used on your accommodation expenses such as rent, board or mortgage
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence

    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's trustee/attending events.

Recipients maybe eligible to apply for this scholarship more than once.

8.22 Cheng King Law Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take a leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester or demonstrate extenuating circumstances that resulted in not being able to meet this requirement for this scholarship to continue
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.23 CitiPower Future Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship and CitiPower, Powercor and United Energy Future Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship you:

- must maintain a full-time study load for the duration of the scholarship
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible

- must be willing to participate in a 12-week paid work placement opportunity at CitiPower, Powercor and United Energy in your penultimate year, if available
- will not be committed to another employer (except casual/part-time work) for the duration of the scholarship
- are willing to participate in a mentoring program at CitiPower, Powercor and United Energy
- must acknowledge the Citipower Future Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- cannot receive this scholarship more than once
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.24 Cultural Visions Grant

If you are a recipient of this Grant, you agree to:

- complete and submit your artistic piece (as outlined in your successful application) within 12 months of receiving the grant
- provide updates and evidence of working towards your documentary/project throughout the year
- participate in a mentorship/professional development component with the College of Design and Social Context (DSC) Engagement Team; this would include at least three milestone check-ins designed to support you in staying on track and addressing any challenges or roadblocks that may arise throughout the project
- the work will need to be presented to a public audience in collaboration with the DSC Engagement Team within 12 months. The public presentation should be developed in collaboration with the DSC Engagement Team
- acknowledge the RMIT Cultural Visions Grant and the DSC Engagement Team in all consequential media and documentation relating to the outcomes from the scholarship, including in the completed project
- immediately notify the Coursework Scholarships Office in writing if you:
  - wish to amend your project as outlined in your successful proposal
  - cannot complete your artistic piece as outlined in your successful proposal (Note: if you cannot complete your documentary or short film by the deadline without exceptional circumstances for not being able to do so, you are required to repay all monies paid to you in relation to this grant).
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you (and will be required to return funds given)
  - are not enrolled
  - take any leave of absence
  - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).

8.25 David Phillips Memorial Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship you:

- must complete a report by a set date which will be advised in the offer email to receive the scholarship payment
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - are not enrolled
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).

8.26 David Thomson Scholarship for Accounting, supported by Pitcher Partners

If you are a recipient of this scholarship you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- cannot keep this scholarship if you:
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take a leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

8.27 Delcon Group Women in Engineering Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- must acknowledge the Delcon Group Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship.

8.28 Dr Glenn Baxter Memorial Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- any part of the scholarship paid directly to you is only to assist with study and living expenses
- understand that scholarship continuation is subject to passing all courses each semester (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- cannot be undertaking pilot training
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.29 dwell Village Accommodation Support Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with dwell Village
- agree to pay:
    - a bond prior to the commencement of your tenancy
    - a security deposit to confirm your room booking
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take leave
    - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
    - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University

    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- acknowledge that RMIT and dwell Village will respect your privacy however, disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed
- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break the lease prior to the end date incurs fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes the vacation periods and should you wish to return home during these periods, you are still liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- understand that this accommodation scholarship is for one year only and you will need to find alternative accommodation in the following year
- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with dwell Village Melbourne City.

8.30 Dylan Alcott Foundation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- your enrolment may either be full or part-time. The value of your scholarship per semester is determined by your enrolment load.
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester your scholarship and it must coincide with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- understand that this scholarship only pays a certain value towards your tuition fees, you are required to pay your portion of your tuition fees (or have an approved HELP loan) by your invoice due date. This scholarship does not assist with any Student Services and Amenities or material fees
- understand that scholarship continuation each semester is subject to passing all courses each semester (except with demonstrated extenuating circumstances, e.g., significant exacerbation of an existing condition as demonstrated by evidence))
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship, events and opportunities
- will need to obtain the Dylan Alcott Foundation's (DAF) prior written approval for any public communication in connection with the scholarship or any other communication that makes use of the DAF's name or logo
- must understand that DAF may produce public communication in connection with the scholarship. The recipient/s provides DAF an irrevocable, royalty free license to use and reproduce the recipient's image and story solely for the purpose of DAF's internal and external communications regarding the scholarship
- understand that you will be invited to represent DAF in media surrounding the scholarship and the educational opportunities that have been provided

- understand you will be offered support by RMIT's Equitable Learning Service to assist you with your academic success
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

8.31 Emeritus Professor Brian Smith AO Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Emeritus Professor Brian Smith AO Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you with regards to meeting the donor / attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.32 Emeritus Professor David Beanland AO Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.33 Emeritus Professor John Jackson Scholarship

If you are a recipient of Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- understand that this scholarship only pays a certain value towards your tuition fees, you are required to pay your portion of your tuition fees (or have an approved HELP loan) by your invoice due date. This scholarship does not assist with any Student Services and Amenities or material fees
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you with regards to meeting the donor representative/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.34 Emeritus Professor John Jackson Scholarship for VE

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you with regards to meeting the donor representative/attending events.

- understand that your scholarship can continue with you as you progress in the same discipline through from a Certificate IV to a Diploma to an Advanced Diploma to an Associate Degree to a Bachelor Degree (or any progression combination of this). You will need to progress each program in the standard duration of time it does take to complete each program (including any credit exemptions). You must be accepted in the next level of program in the semester following the completion of your previous program.

  e.g. To receive the scholarship for 2 years (four semesters) for studying accounting in Vocational Education:
  - First six months: receiving the scholarship while undertaking the Certificate IV in Accounting and Bookkeeping (duration one semester / 6 months)
  - Second six months: the scholarship continues with you as you progress into the Diploma of Accounting (duration one semester / 6 months)
  - Third and Four semesters: the scholarship continues with you as you progress into the Advanced Diploma of Accounting (duration two semesters / one year)

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.35 Emily McPherson EMBA Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must remain enrolled (full or part-time) in the EMBA face-to-face (Melbourne) program at RMIT University, not study online
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must complete your program within one and a half (1.5) years for full-time enrolled or three years (3) for part-time enrolment
- must maintain a minimum program GPA of 2.0 or greater, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester in order for your scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- must not be concurrently enrolled in another program at the same time
- the scholarship only assists with the payment of tuition fees related to the completion of your program as per your scholarship offer, no other fee payment is included
- for recipients on a partial tuition fee paid scholarship, you are required to pay your portion of your tuition fees by your invoice due date
- help promote the EMBA program if asked
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

If you are an RMIT staff member and your 25% tuition fee waiver support from your School, College or Portfolio is withdrawn prior to the end of your scholarship, your scholarship will be cancelled.

8.36 Essendon Education Academic Community Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
  - study part-time

- take any leave of absence
- defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

- must maintain satisfactory academic performance each semester for this scholarship to continue (except in extenuating circumstances). For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- are ineligible to take a leave of absence and keep this scholarship.
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be forwarded to the Essendon Football Club for the purpose of administering this scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities such as a Work Integrated Learning activity
- must acknowledge the Essendon Education Academic Community Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation.

8.37 Evelyn Boekemann Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
  - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
  - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester. Your scholarship cannot be placed on hold in the first semester of study of any program
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's family / attending events.
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your scholarship can continue with you as you progress through from a Certificate IV to a Diploma to an Advanced Diploma to an Associate Degree to a Bachelor Degree (or any progression combination of this). You will need to progress each program in the standard duration of time it does take to complete each program (including any credit exemptions). You must be accepted in the next level of program in the semester following the completion of your previous program.

  e.g. To receive the scholarship for 2 years (four semesters) for studying accounting in Vocational Education:
  - First six months: receiving the scholarship while undertaking the Certificate IV in Accounting and Bookkeeping (duration one semester / 6 months)

- Second six months: the scholarship continues with you as you progress into the Diploma of Accounting (duration one semester / 6 months)
- Third and Four semesters: the scholarship continues with you as you progress into the Advanced Diploma of Accounting (duration two semesters / one year)

8.38 ExxonMobil Scholarship for Excellence

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you agree to:

- can study full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs (outside of Engineering)
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- are required to maintain a minimum semester GPA of 3.0 or greater at the completion of each semester or demonstrate extenuating circumstances that resulted in not being able to meet this requirement for this scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- participate in a fast tracked second-round interview for the 2024 ExxonMobil Internship Program
- understand that your contact details will be shared with ExxonMobil and they may be in contact with you with directly.

8.39 Gail E Donne Scholarship in Biomedical Science (Laboratory Medicine)

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you agree to:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you with regards to things such as events or meeting the donor, sending you information about Gail E Donne, etc.
- that you are not a relative of Gail Elizabeth Mangion (nee Donne), as relatives are ineligible to receive this scholarship
- the scholarship may extend for an additional year depending on your demonstrated academic performance to achieve and/or excel in scholastic activities, and a positive recommendation from the academic head of the RMIT Bachelor of Laboratory Medicine (Honours) program.

8.40 Gama-dji Grant

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the grant can be awarded
- cannot take leave or cancel your enrolment and receive this grant
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - do not continue to be enrolled
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).

8.41 Gavin Teague Memorial Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you agree to:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- acknowledge the Gavin Teague Memorial Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation relating to the outcomes from the scholarship
- have your folio of work submitted with your scholarship application being displayed in conjunction with this scholarship, such as on the RMIT website or at a scholarship ceremony
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor, sending you information about Gavin Teague.

8.42 Gerard Driesen Scholarship to Support VE Indigenous Students

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you agree to:

- confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester. Your scholarship cannot be placed on hold in the first semester of study of any program

- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible if you want to keep this scholarship
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- understand that your scholarship can continue with you as you progress through from a Certificate IV to a Diploma to an Advanced Diploma to an Associate Degree to a Bachelor Degree (or any progression combination of this). You will need to progress each program in the standard duration of time it does take to complete each program (including any credit exemptions). You must be accepted in the next level of program in the semester following the completion of your previous program.

e.g. To receive the scholarship for 2 years (four semesters) for studying accounting in Vocational Education:

- First six months: receiving the scholarship while undertaking the Certificate IV in Accounting and Bookkeeping (duration one semester / 6 months)
- Second six months: the scholarship continues with you as you progress into the Diploma of Accounting (duration one semester / 6 months)
- Third and Four semesters: the scholarship continues with you as you progress into the Advanced Diploma of Accounting (duration two semesters / one year)

8.43 George Alexander Foundation Scholarship

2026 onward recipients

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change program
    - cancel your program
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- must:
    - immediately notify this offer if you want to transfer programs or reduce your study load from full-time
    - complete an annual report each year
    - promote the value of the Scholarship both within and outside the University
    - participate in a network of George Alexander Foundation recipients, with a focus on academic opportunities and community service, as appropriate
    - only use the scholarship money for accommodation, living and study costs related to your program

- maintain a semester GPA of 2 or higher, which will be assessed at the end of each semester to continue your scholarship. If you face exceptional circumstances, such as a major illness or event that hindered your progress, you can apply for consideration. Submit the necessary evidence to the Coursework Scholarships Office, who will then seek approval from the George Alexander Foundation. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa

- your contact details (including your personal email address) and results/GPA being forwarded to the George Alexander Foundation and they may make independent contact with you
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as attending events
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

* cannot use your enrolment in a Diploma of Languages or any other program (other than the program in your offer email) count towards your enrolment load.

2022-2025 recipients

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time*
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- must:
    - volunteer for 15 hours per year
    - undertake 5 hours of leadership training per year (e.g. through RMIT's Plus)
    - promote the value of the Scholarship both within and outside the University
    - participate in a network of George Alexander Foundation recipients, with a focus on academic opportunities and community service, as appropriate
    - only use the scholarship money for accommodation, living and study costs related to your program
    - have a semester GPA equal to or above 2, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester for your scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence). For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- your contact details (including your personal email address) and results being forwarded to the George Alexander Foundation and they may make independent contact with you
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as attending events
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

* cannot use your enrolment in a Diploma of Languages or any other program (other than the program in your offer email) count towards your enrolment load.

8.44 Gina Solomon Scholarship in Environment Studies

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- are required to maintain a semester grade point average (GPA) equal to or above 2.5 at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials/assessment-and-exams/results/gradepoint-average--gpa-
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding any accommodation-based scholarships)
- may be offered an opportunity to participate in paid work and professional development from Major Roads Project Victoria as a part of this scholarship. Your details will be given to the company to liaise directly with you
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team, the donor and Major Roads Project Victoria who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events / paid work, etc.

8.45 GJK Facility Services Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- must acknowledge the GJK Facility Services Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- must attend a ceremony, hosted by RMIT at a date to be advised either by your school or the Coursework Scholarships Office, to meet your donor
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

8.46 Grathelms Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.47 GS1 Australia Logistics and Supply Chain Management Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the GS1 Australia Logistics and Supply Chain Management Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- must be undertaking a logistics and supply chain major
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - do not undertake a logistics and supply chain major
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.48 H&H Group Indigenous Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- will need to confirm your Indigenous eligibility with the Ngarara Willim Centre prior to the scholarship commencing
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- must be willing to participate in a mentoring program provided by H&H Group
- must be willing to participate in Work Integrated Learning (WIL) activities and/or paid work experience at H&H Group for 1-2 weeks per year
- must be willing to participate in a paid graduate position for 12 months at H&H Group upon completion of your program, to be managed under a separate employment agreement
- agree to acknowledge the H&H Group Indigenous Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

The scholarship may continue if you progress from an eligible diploma to an eligible bachelor program as per the scholarship's eligibility criteria (e.g. from a Diploma of Marketing and Communication to a Bachelor of Communication (Media)). Enrolment must be in the semester immediately following the completion of your previous program. No other pathway options are permitted. The scholarship has limited funding and may not be able to provide support for the entire duration when progressing into the next level of study.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.49 Hacer Women in Construction Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- can study full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you

    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- must be willing to participate in a paid position in the Hacer Group 2-Year Graduate Program, to be managed under a separate employment agreement
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.50 Halim Family Women in Science Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.51 Hay and Backman Supply Chain and Logistics Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship (formerly known as the David Hay Supply Chain and Logistics Scholarship), you:

- must be willing to engage in an RMIT facilitated career mentoring program and in the future be willing to participate in the future as a mentor to future scholarship recipients
- your enrolment may either be full or part-time. The value of your scholarship per semester is determined by your enrolment load.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - take any leave of absence

    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance each semester for your scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and the donor who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients are encouraged to re-apply for the scholarship at a later date if they are undertaking applicable study in a higher level of program.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation if you are enrolled part-time. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.52 Herbert and Ingle Litauer Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).
- will not be eligible to receive any higher valued scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

8.53 IDEA Photography Equity Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence).
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT whilst in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.54 IDEA Photography Scholarship for Excellence

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence).
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's representative / attending events.

8.55 Inder Kaur or Inder Kaur Resilience Scholarships

If you are a recipient of the Inder Kaur Scholarship or the Inder Kaur Resilience Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.56 Indigenous Commonwealth Accommodation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence

- can study full or part-time (you will be emailed to identify your future enrolment load, and not responding could delay payments)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must:
    - provide to the Coursework Scholarships Office evidence of your Melbourne address at the start of this scholarship. Failure to do this will terminate your scholarship and require the return of monies paid. If the information is not in your offer email, the Coursework Scholarships Office will email you details of the requirements and due date to your RMIT student email account
    - maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
    - demonstrate continued commitment and participation with the RMIT Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community by either attending one social or one cultural activity through Ngarara Willim Centre per semester.
    - complete a survey at the beginning of each semester that includes providing continued financial and residency eligibility
    - engage an Indigenous Tutorial Assistance Scheme (ITAS) tutor in the commencing year of study for your scholarship to continue into the second year
    - if asked, be willing and available to represent Ngarara Willim Centre /RMIT at events etc
    - participate in the Gama-dji orientation program
- are ineligible to receive the Commonwealth's Relocation Scholarship administered by Centrelink
- agree to RMIT collecting your personal information in order to assess your eligibility, relevant level and duration of support and that certain information will be provided to the Commonwealth of Australia
- are not able to redeem any unused portion of the scholarship
- are ineligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships from RMIT.

Further terms and conditions can be found in the Commonwealth Indigenous Student Assistance Grants Guidelines 2017.

8.57 Indigenous Commonwealth Education Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence
- can study full or part-time (you will be emailed to identify your future enrolment load, and not responding could delay payments)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must
    - complete a survey at the beginning of each semester that includes providing continued financial eligibility

- maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- demonstrate continued commitment and participation with the RMIT Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community by either attending one social or one cultural activity through Ngarara Willim Centre per semester.
- engage an Indigenous Tutorial Assistance Scheme (ITAS) tutor in the commencing year of study for your scholarship to continue into the second year
- if asked, be willing and available to represent Ngarara Willim Centre /RMIT at events etc
- participate in the Gama-dji orientation program

- are ineligible to receive the Commonwealth's Student Start-up Loan administered by Centrelink
- are ineligible to receive any other scholarships from RMIT, (except for accommodation based scholarships, Gama-dji Grant, Indigenous Resource Grant, RMIT Equity Notebook Grant or the RMIT Equity Travel Grant)
- agree to RMIT collecting your personal information in order to assess your eligibility, relevant level and duration of support and that certain information will be provided to the Commonwealth of Australia.
- are not able to redeem any unused portion of the scholarship
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

Further terms and conditions can be found in the Commonwealth Indigenous Student Assistance Grants Guidelines 2017

8.58 Indigenous Commonwealth Reward Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence
- are not able to redeem any unused portion of the scholarship
- agree to RMIT collecting your personal information in order to assess your eligibility, relevant level and duration of support and that certain information will be provided to the Commonwealth of Australia.

8.59 Indigenous Juris Doctor Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- your enrolment may either be full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
  - change programs
  - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- must not be concurrently enrolled in another program at the same time.
- must remain enrolled in the face-to-face (Melbourne) Juris Doctor program at RMIT University and not be studying the online program version.

- must complete the Juris Doctor within three (3) years of full-time enrolment or six (6) years for part-time enrolment
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: academic progress
- the scholarship only assists with the payment of tuition fees related to the completion of your program as per your scholarship offer, no other fee payment is included
- for recipients on a partial tuition fee paid scholarship, you are required to pay your portion of your tuition fees by your invoice due date
- help promote the Juris Doctor program if asked
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

If you are an RMIT staff member and your 25% tuition fee waiver support from your School, College or Portfolio is withdrawn prior to the end of your scholarship, your scholarship will be cancelled.

8.60 Indigenous Resource Grant

If you are a recipient of this grant, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the grant can be awarded
- must use the funds on the purpose/s described in your application
- must return any funds paid if the activity/resource declared in your application that was approved has not been undertaken/purchased, or purchased for lower amount that advised in your application
- must provide a copy of receipts for purchases when requested
- understand that for activities, such as professional development, you
    - are responsible for all bookings and travel insurance related to the activity
    - must submit a report no later than one month after your return which outlines the benefits of the activities you have undertaken as a student and to your future career

8.61 Indigenous Student Success Grant

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the grant can be awarded
- must continue to be enrolled to receive this grant
- cannot take leave or cancel your enrolment and receive this grant.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).

8.62 Inge & Grahame King Scholarship for sculpture and printmaking

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you

    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - change your discipline within art from sculpture or printmaking
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: academic progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- may reapply for the scholarship if eligible.

8.63 Irana Turynska Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) *
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: academic progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as attending events.

*If you are on a visa, please ensure you meet the enrolment needs of your visa

 if your scholarship is for two years in duration (last year of the Bachelor of Architectural Design and first year of the Masters of Architecture), your masters must immediately commence in the next semester (e.g. bachelor graduation at end of semester 2, your masters enrolment must be in semester 1 of the following year)

8.64 Jack Ward Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Jack Ward Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's representative/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

8.65 Jacob and Charlotte Kahane Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Jacob and Charlotte Kahane Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's representative / attending events.

8.66 Jayco Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence). For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.67 Jillian Weaven Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- your enrolment may either be full or part-time. The value of your scholarship per semester is determined by your enrolment load.
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

8.68 John Bush Memorial Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (except with demonstrated exceptional circumstance/s)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.69 John Storey Junior Scholarship in Mechanical Engineering

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you

    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - change program outside of a Bachelor of Engineering (Mechanical Engineering) (Honours) single or double degree
    - must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- understand your name, program and aspects of any reports written by you regarding your scholarship will be displayed with other Storey recipients at RMIT University.

8.70 Journal Accommodation Support Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with Journal
- agree to pay:
    - a bond prior to the commencement of your tenancy
    - a security deposit to confirm your room booking
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take leave
    - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
    - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- acknowledge that RMIT and Journal will respect your privacy however, disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed

- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break the lease prior to the end date incurs fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes vacation periods and should you wish to return home during these periods, you are still liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- understand that this accommodation scholarship is for one year only and you will need to find alternative accommodation in the following year
- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with Journal Student Living Market Way.

8.71 Judith Roberts Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.72 Kapitol Group Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must be willing to undertake paid work at Kapitol Group during the vacation period, to be managed under a separate employment agreement
- must be willing to undertake a paid cadetship / Work Integrated Learning (WIL) activity at Kapitol Group in your third year of study, to be managed under a separate WIL agreement
- must be available to attend the RMIT School of Property Construction and Project Management Awards Night and/or Scholarships Ceremony, if required
- must acknowledge the Kapitol Group Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

This scholarship is considered taxable income under taxation legislation as the recipient is expected to undertake paid work with the donor. We recommend that you obtain taxation advice from an accountant or the Australian Tax Office regarding this scholarship.

8.73 Lady Alice Northcote Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship (formally known as Northcote Trust Scholarship) you:

- can only use the scholarship money for educational costs related to your program
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- should discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as the change of program must be in the same or complimentary field of study to your vocational education program of study
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- if the duration of your scholarship is greater than one year, you:
    - must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk,' your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
    - your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters. Your scholarship cannot be placed on hold in the first semester of receiving it, or in the first semester of any permitted next level of study.

- if the duration of your scholarship is one year/semester, you:
    - must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
    - are not able to take a leave of absence and keep this scholarship

In additional to the above, if you received the Northcote Trust Scholarship as a vocational education student with a scholarship duration of two or more years, your scholarship is for the final year/semester of your diploma/advanced diploma, followed by one or two years in a degree at RMIT (as per your offer communication). Your scholarship will be terminated if:

- your degree program is not in the same or a complimentary field of study to your diploma/advanced diploma program
- you take a leave of absence in the first semester of commencing your next level of study
- you are not successful in gaining entry into a degree program place at RMIT in the semester immediately after your diploma/advanced diploma as per your offer communication. If you have to extend your diploma/advanced diploma into a further semester or do not gain entry into a degree program your scholarship will be terminated.

    Example 1: if you are completing your diploma/advanced diploma in semester 1, you must commence your degree in semester 2 of the same year no semester break between studying).

    Example 2: if you are completing your final year of diploma/advanced diploma in semester 2, you must commence your degree in semester 1 of the following year (no semester break between studying).

Recipients who have received this scholarship for one and a half years or more in duration are ineligible to receive this scholarship again.

8.74 Laura Cook Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.75 Lelia Kelly Long Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.76 Liberty Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters (one year) after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.77 Lighthouse Club Australia Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.78 LTI Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
    - change your major from Business Information Systems
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.79 M80 Ring Road Pathways Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take a leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- are required to participate in a cadetship with M80 Ring Road located in Bundoora or Watsonia
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

- understand that your contact details will be shared with M80 who will contact you about the cadetship.

8.80 MAI Foundation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- maybe offered a work experience placement as a part of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.81 Mainfreight Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue in semester two
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

8.82 Marina Radiology Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must be enrolled in specific courses related to Work Integrated Learning (WIL) (e.g. RADI 1214 and RADI 1215)
- must have entered into a separate WIL agreement prior to the activity / placement commencing
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - leave the placement
    - have your placement terminated
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

8.83 Marion Fletcher Fashion and Textiles Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Marion Fletcher Fashion and Textiles Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester. Your scholarship cannot be placed on hold in the first semester of study of any program (bachelors or honours degrees).
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- scholarship continuation into the Bachelor of Fashion (Design) (Honours) from the Bachelor of Fashion (Design) can only occur if it follows immediately after graduating (cannot take any leave of absence between the 3 year degree and one year honours programs) (e.g. completes 3-year bachelor in semester 2, commences 1year honours degree in semester 1 of the following year)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.84 Mason Family Trust Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances

    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester. If you have made unsatisfactory academic performance for two semesters (which do not have to be consecutive), as per the unacceptable academic performance definitions and whether or not your school identifies you as being 'at risk', your scholarship may be terminated or placed on hold at the discretion of the Coursework Scholarships Office. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's representative / attending events.

8.85 MCHN (Maternal and Child Health Nursing) Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- your enrolment may either be full or part-time. The value of your scholarship per semester is determined by your enrolment load.
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with taking a leave of absence from your studies
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
    - change programs
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester for the scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other fully funded scholarship from the Commonwealth, State or Territory government body or a scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that it is your sole responsibility in self-assessing your own tax position and seeking tax advice in relation to the scholarship agreement and the receipt of the scholarship
- consent to:
    - providing the Department of Health and Human Services any relevant scholarship information as the Department may require to determine if you are compliant with the scholarship, such as ensuring satisfaction of eligibility criteria, academic progress, and results
    - being contacted by the University on behalf of the Department as a scholarship recipient via their email address for a period of up to five (5) years after the end date of the scholarship for the purposes of providing information to the Department regarding recipient's experiences as a student, employment, and experiences in the field of maternal and child health nursing.
    - attending joint promotional events or participate in promotional activities in keeping with the spirit of the scholarship as reasonably requested between the Department and RMIT.
- Received this scholarship before:
    - If you have previously received the full amount of the scholarship, you are ineligible to receive it again
    - If you have partially received this scholarship before, any subsequent offer will not be for the full duration/amount (e.g. received for 1 semester and studying full-time, the next offer will not be for more than 1 semester of full-time study; received for 2 semesters and studying part-time, the next offer will not be for more than 2 semesters of part-time study).

8.86 McMullen Nolan Group (MNG) Geospatial Science and Survey Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- are required to have a grade point average (GPA) equal to or above 2 at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/student-essentials/assessment-and-exams/results/gradepoint-average--gpa-
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be forwarded to McMullen Nolan Group (MNG) Survey
- may be offered a paid casual work and /or vacation employment with MNG Survey
- maybe invited to participate in a mentoring program at MNG Survey
- must acknowledge the McMullen Nolan Group Geospatial Science and Surveying Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- must attend a ceremony, hosted by RMIT at a date to be advised either by your school or the Coursework Scholarships Office, to meet your donor
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

8.87 Melbourne Cricket Education Academic Community Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance each semester for this scholarship to continue (except in extenuating circumstances). For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

- understand that your contact details will be forwarded to the Melbourne Cricket Education Academic for the purpose of administering this scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities such as a Work Integrated Learning activity
- must acknowledge the Melbourne Cricket Education Academic Community Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation.

8.88 NABxRMIT Global BizTech Program Grant

If you are a recipient of this grant, you must fully participate in the program with NAB or return all funds paid.

8.89 NHP Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must maintain a full-time study load for the duration of the scholarship
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take a leave of absence
- must maintain a Grade Point Average (GPA) to date of 2.5 or higher at the end of each semester for the scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must be willing to engage with mentoring, industry exposure and development opportunities at NHP, if available
- will not be committed to another employer (except casual/part-time work) for the duration of the scholarship
- must acknowledge the NHP Women in Electrical Engineering Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- cannot receive this scholarship more than once
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

8.90 Ngarara Willim Grant

If you are a recipient of this grant, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the grant can be awarded
- must use the funds on the purpose/s described in your application
- must return any funds paid if the activity/resource declared in your application that was approved has not been undertaken/purchased, or purchased for lower amount that advised in your application
- must provide a copy of receipts for purchases when requested

8.91 Ngarara Willim Postgraduate Coursework Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the grant can be awarded
- can study full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with a leave of absence
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT (except any accommodation support scholarships).

8.92 Orcadia Foundation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.93 Paul Tomkinson Scholarship in surveying

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of every semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities
- understand that you maybe be offered opportunities from the donor regarding work/work experience. Your agreeance or not to accept these will not impact your eligibility for this scholarship.

8.94 Peter Coloe Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.
- understand that your scholarship can continue with you for up to four years as you progress through from a Certificate IV to a Diploma to an Advanced Diploma to a Bachelor Degree (or any progression combination of this). You will need to progress each program in the standard duration of time it does take to complete each program (including any credit exemptions). You must be accepted in the next level of program in the semester following the completion of your previous program.

8.95 Port of Portland Scholarship for Women

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- must study full-time and be enrolled in 48 credit points of enrolment for each half year and progress to graduating in the standard duration including any credit exemptions (4 years for single degree / 5 years for double degrees)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (except if they demonstrate exceptional circumstance/s)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team and the donor of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities
- understand that you will be offered an opportunity of a mentorship and work experience / internship from the Port of Portland. Your agreeance or not to accept these will not impact your eligibility for this scholarship.

8.96 Professor Robert and Josephine Shanks Undergraduate Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- must enrol full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue in semester two
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.97 QuadReal UniLodge Melbourne City and UniLodge Royal Melbourne Accommodation Scholarships

If you are a recipient of one of these Scholarships, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with the UniLodge property you have been allocated
- agree to pay:
    - a bond prior to the commencement of your tenancy with UniLodge Melbourne City or UniLodge Royal Melbourne
    - a security deposit to confirm your room booking
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to confirm your Indigenous eligibility with the Ngarara Willim Centre prior to moving in, if applicable
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take a leave of absence

    - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
    - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one/each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- acknowledge that RMIT and UniLodge will respect your privacy however, disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed
- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break lease prior to the end date may incur fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes vacation periods and should you wish to return home during these periods, you are still liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with UniLodge Melbourne City or UniLodge Royal Melbourne.

8.98 RG Kayler-Thomson Memorial Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you understand that:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- your contact details will be forwarded to the Australian Institute of Refrigeration, Air-conditioning and Heating (AIRAH) who were a part of the selection committee, and they may independently be in contact with you
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.99 RP Infrastructure & DCWC Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you

    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- understand that your contact details will be forwarded to RP Infrastructure & DCWC
- are willing to participate in events hosted by RP Infrastructure & DCWC, including making a video for the promotion of this scholarship
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events
- From 2025, must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence).

8.100 RMIT Accommodation Support Scholarship

If you are the recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- will need to provide to the Coursework Scholarships Office evidence of your Melbourne address at the start of your first semester with RMIT University. Failure to do this will terminate your scholarship and require the return of monies paid. The Coursework Scholarships Office will email you details of the requirements and due date to your RMIT student email account.
- are ineligible to continue to receive this scholarship if you move outside of Melbourne during the academic semester/term (not including returning to your parents/other address during mid- year/end-of-year break)
- can study full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- are ineligible if you receive a RMIT scholarship bed in a purpose-built student accommodation establishment.

8.101 RMIT Award for VE or HE scholarship

For your scholarship to commence, you must be full-time enrolled in the next level of program within two years of graduating from the program (for which your RMIT Award was received) or the scholarship will automatically lapse (e.g. if you graduated 2025 you must be full-time enrolled and studying by semester 2, 2027). Payment of your scholarship will only be made in your first semester only.

- RMIT Award for HE, you must full-time enrol in either a one-year honours degree (2 semesters) or a Masters by Coursework (up to four semesters)
- RMIT Award for VE, you must enrol full-time in a Bachelor's degree (up to ten semesters in length) (an Associate Degree enrolment is ineligible)

- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence in the first semester of study

- defer your study past two years from graduating (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).

8.102 RMIT Equity Notebook Grant

If you are a recipient of this grant, you understand that:

- your notebook computer, and all warranty, software issues, servicing, etc. are your responsibilities. RMIT University cannot assist you with your notebook and has no responsibility towards your notebook
- you are not allowed to receive this grant more than once
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester).

8.103 RMIT Equity Travel Grant

If you are the recipient of the RMIT Equity Travel Grant, you:

- must receive an approval for the indicated mobility activity as detailed in your scholarship application.
- you must be enrolled in a course/s in RMIT's Enrolment Online relating to that travel in your scholarship application. Your enrolment may either be full or part-time
- understand that the Grant cannot be transferred or held over to a following period of time
- must return all monies paid if your mobility activity is subsequently cancelled/ you cannot participate, please contact to the Coursework Scholarships Office to organise
- understand that the value of your Equity Travel Grant is based on your mobility activity type and location. If these aspects of your activity change, your grant value may be affected. You must inform the Coursework Scholarship Office of any changes to your mobility activity prior to commencement of your activity
- understand that you cannot be awarded more than one scholarship/grant (of any type) to fund your mobility activity, excluding an OS-HELP loan (e.g. you cannot also receive a New Colombo Plan, Storey Grant, Westpac Asian Exchange Scholarship, etc).

8.104 RMIT Humanitarian Visa Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship you:

- can study full or part-time
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- you must maintain satisfactory academic performance each semester for the scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding RMIT Equity Notebook Grant and accommodation scholarships if applied and were successful).
- understand that in addition to the Coursework Scholarships Office communicating with you regarding your scholarship, you will also be receiving communications from RMIT's Equity and Diversity team regarding seeking feedback and information on your educational study and student experience
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

A recipient who has already received their full allocation of this scholarship and are applying for another scholarship (same or different) for the same program level are ineligible to apply.

8.105 RMIT Indigenous Accommodation Scholarship

If you are the recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence
- will need to provide to the Coursework Scholarships Office evidence of your Melbourne address at the start of your first semester with RMIT University. Failure to do this will terminate your scholarship and require the return of monies paid. The Coursework Scholarships Office will email you details of the requirements and due date to your RMIT student email account
- are ineligible to continue to receive this scholarship if you move outside of Melbourne during the academic semester/term (not including returning to your parents/other address during mid- year/end-of-year break)
- can study full or part-time
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with a leave of absence
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- are ineligible if you receive another accommodation scholarship from RMIT at the same time.

A past recipient may be eligible to apply for another RMIT Indigenous Accommodation Scholarship if you are enrolling in a program which is increasing in level e.g. from a diploma to an advanced diploma, from an advanced diploma to a bachelor's degree, from a bachelor's degree to a single year honours degree, from a bachelor's degree to a postgraduate by coursework degree. A new RMIT Indigenous Accommodation Scholarship application must be submitted prior to scholarship applications close date for the semester you are starting your new program. A recipient who has already received their full allocation of a standard duration of program RMIT Indigenous Accommodation Scholarship and are applying for another one for the same program level are ineligible to apply.

8.106 RMIT Indigenous Study Support Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the RMIT Indigenous Study Support Scholarship, you:

- must confirm your Indigenous eligibility with RMIT's Ngarara Willim Centre before the scholarship can commence
- can study full or part-time
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with a leave of absence

- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- understand that if you change program (same level of program), your scholarship can continue but it will not extend in the duration of the scholarship
- are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once for the same type of program or at any given time
- cannot receive a scholarship or grant (e.g. a WIL grant) of greater value than this scholarship and for a semester of study, this scholarship will be terminated.

A past recipient may be eligible to apply for another RMIT Indigenous Study Support Scholarship if you are enrolling in a program which is increasing in level e.g. from a diploma to an advanced diploma, from an advanced diploma to a bachelor's degree, from a bachelor's degree to a single year honours degree, from a bachelor's degree to a postgraduate by coursework degree. A new RMIT Indigenous Study Support Scholarship application must be submitted prior to scholarship applications close date for the semester you are starting your new program. A recipient who has already received their full allocation of a standard duration of program RMIT Indigenous Study Support Scholarship and are applying for another scholarship (same or different) for the same program level are ineligible to apply.

8.107 RMIT Study Support Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you

- Can study full or part-time
- understand that if you change program (same level of program), your scholarship can continue but it will not extend in the duration of the scholarship
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- cannot receive a scholarship or grant (e.g. a WIL grant) of greater value than this scholarship and for a semester of study, this scholarship will be terminated
- cannot receive this more than once at a time
- and
    - If you receive this scholarship for greater than one year, you
        - your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester and coinciding with a leave of absence
        - are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once for the same type of program
        - understand that the duration is for the minimum years/credit points to graduate (including any granted credit exemptions)

    or

    - If you receive this scholarship for one semester/year, you
        - are ineligible to take a leave of absence and keep this scholarship (this scholarship will be terminated). You may reapply for the scholarship (if eligible) prior to applications close for the semester of your return
        - may be able to receive this scholarship more than once for the same level of program if you
            - have not reached the minimum duration/credit points to graduate (including any credit exemptions); and/or
            - have not received payments for this scholarship which extend past the minimum duration of your current program (e.g. you had the scholarship for 2 years with a different bachelor program, and then one further year on your new bachelor, and your new program is three years in duration – as you have had funding for three years, you would not receive further funding).

A past recipient may be eligible to apply for another RMIT Study Support Scholarship if you are enrolling in a program which is increasing in level e.g. from a diploma to an advanced diploma, from an advanced diploma to a bachelor's degree, from a bachelor's degree to a single year honours degree, from a bachelor's degree to a postgraduate by coursework degree. A new RMIT Study Support Scholarship application must be submitted prior to scholarship applications close date for the semester you are starting your new program. A recipient who has already received their full allocation of a standard duration of program RMIT Study Support Scholarship and are applying for another scholarship (same or different) for the same program level are ineligible to apply.

8.108 RMIT Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you

- need to follow any information provided to you as per the scholarship application / offer email
- will not be able to take leave and keep this scholarship

8.109 RMIT Tech Ignite Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship you:

- must study full-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain a Grade Point Average (GPA) to date of 2.0 or higher at the end of each semester for the scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- must be willing to participate in Work Integrated Learning (WIL) activities (internships) totalling 40 weeks with the donor companies in your third year of study. These internships will be paid.
- must acknowledge the RMIT Tech Ignite Scholarship in all consequential media and documentation
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donors of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities
- must attend a ceremony, hosted by RMIT at a date to be advised either by your school or the Coursework Scholarships Office, to meet your donor.

8.110 RMIT Technology Grant

If you are a recipient of this grant, you

- must purchase the software / equipment as advised in your grant offer.

8.111 RMIT Welcome & Sam and Nina Narodowski Asylum Seeker Scholarships

If you are a recipient of one or both of these scholarships you:

- understand that this scholarship does not cover payment of any material fees or fines
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- understand that if your enrolment in your program exceeds your scholarship duration, your tuition and/or living allowance will cease with the scholarship end date. You will be required to pay for any tuition and Student Services and Amenities fees after the scholarship end date
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance each semester/half year for the scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress If your scholarship is terminated and your scholarship does include the payment of your tuition and Student Services and Amenities fees, you will be required to pay for any course enrolments after that termination date
- understand that if you change program your scholarship may not continue. Note:
    - we recommend prior to any change of program to seek approval from the Coursework Scholarships Office. Receiving a new program offer does not guarantee the continuation of payment of your tuition and Student Services and Amenities fees.
    - if your scholarship is not approved to be continued with your change of program, you will be required to pay the tuition and Student Services and Amenities fees of your new program.
    - if approval is given for a program change, your scholarship duration and end date will not be extended
- must inform RMIT University (RMIT Connect) immediately when your visa changes
- understand that in addition to the Coursework Scholarships Office communicating with you regarding your scholarship, you will also be receiving communications from RMIT's Equity and Diversity team such as requests for feedback and information on your educational study and student experience
- you are ineligible to receive other:
    - tuition scholarships while holding the RMIT Welcome Scholarship – tuition
    - study/living scholarships while holding the RMIT Welcome Scholarship – living or the Sam and Nina Narowski Asylum Seeker Scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.112 Rowe Scientific Scholarships

If you are a recipient of this scholarship in 2026 you:

- must provide, prior to your first payment, a photo and a 100-word statement regarding your chemistry interests that maybe published in the Rowe Scientific national newsletter

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs or change from having a Chemistry major
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with the donors of this scholarship for the purpose of administering the scholarship and making independent contact with you regarding this scholarship and opportunities.

If you are a recipient of these Scholarships (commencing from 2027), you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue (or have exceptional circumstances e.g. major illness/event which prevented your progress as demonstrated by evidence)
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.113 Rural Grant

If you are a recipient of the Rural Grant, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.114 Sam and Nina Narodowski Asylum Seeker Scholarship

See RMIT Welcome & Sam and Nina Narodowski Asylum Seeker Scholarships above.

8.115 Sam and Nina Narodowski Undergraduate Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.116 Sam Papasavas Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester for the scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.117 Santa Singh and Balwant Kaur Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester or demonstrate extenuating circumstances that resulted in not being able to meet this requirement for this scholarship to continue
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation support scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.118 Sarah's Dream Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.119 Sartori Memorial Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible

- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

Recipients are ineligible to receive this scholarship more than once.

If you have reached the maximum amount payable for this scholarship, you will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT whilst studying an undergraduate program.

8.120 Scape Accommodation Support Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with the Scape property you've been allocated
- agree to pay:
    - a bond prior to the commencement of your tenancy
    - a security deposit to confirm your room booking
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
    - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- acknowledge that RMIT and Scape will respect your privacy, however disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed
- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break the lease prior to the end date incurs fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes vacation periods and should you wish to return home during these periods, you are still liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- understand that this accommodation scholarship is for one year only and you will need to find alternative accommodation in the following year
- agree to attend up to four (4) Scape events over the scholarship program and work with Scape to positively promote the scholarship program
- agree to sign a 'Release Form' to consent to the Scape Group using visual and/or audio material of you

- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with Scape.

8.121 School of Art Honours Travelling Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- must be undertaking travel related to your art/studio practice.

8.122 Sir John Storey Aviation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - do not pass by the end of January 2027, the following courses:
        - Commercial Pilot Licence Theory (AERO2617 or AERO2587); and
        - Commercial Pilot Licence Flying (AERO2616 or AERO2586)
    - are not enrolled in the following courses by the end of January 2027:
        - Flying to Instructor rating (AERO2479 or AERO2620); and
        - Instructor Theory (AERO2578 or AERO2621)
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.123 Sir William Tyree Engineering Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible. Any change must include a Bachelor of Engineering degree.

- must maintain a minimum program grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 or greater each semester for your scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT or external while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be provided to our Philanthropy Office and the donor (trustees) of your scholarship, and either may make direct contact with you with regards to things such as attending events and other opportunities
- understand that your contact details will be provided to the Sir William Tyree Foundation for the purpose of being asked to join the Sir Wiliam Tyree Foundation Scholars, Alumni + Friends Network by the network. The Network was established by the Foundation and is a philanthropic endeavour to add to the experience and resources available to its scholarship recipients. The Network consists of current undergraduate, postgraduate and alumni scholarship recipients and offers networking and professional development opportunities through events and programs. For example, this includes a mentor program, In conversation professional development events, meeting fellow Tyree scholars and introductions to key Tyree Transformers staff. When joining, the scholars are welcomed by the Chair of the Foundation and receive information on the Network calendar and links to join the LinkedIn and WhatsApp groups. In addition, a Foundation Privacy Statement which details how any information will be treated is provided.

8.124 STEM Women in Computing Technologies Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester
- must maintain a minimum program grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 or greater each semester for your scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships).

8.125 STEM Women in Engineering Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester

- must maintain a minimum program grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 or greater each semester for your scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

8.126 Steve Ashton Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- can enrol full or part-time
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.127 Susan E Williams Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must pass all courses at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.128 Ted Dimmick Textiles Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - change programs
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.129 Ton and Vo Family Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible (e.g. moving within "Bachelor of Engineering" degrees are permissible, moving from a Bachelor of Engineering to a Bachelor of Accounting would not be allowed)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.130 Uncle Brian McKinnon (Dodd) Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - change programs*
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

- your scholarship can be placed on hold for a maximum period of two semesters after receiving the scholarship for at least one semester. Your scholarship cannot be placed on hold in the first semester of study of any program
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be reviewed at the completion of each semester, for this scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor's trustee or Uncle Brian's family / attending events.
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)

*The scholarship can continue if you are progressing/pathwaying from a Diploma of Visual Arts to an Advanced Diploma of Visual Arts or from the Advanced Diploma of Visual Arts into the Bachelor of Arts (Fine Arts). The next program enrolment must be in the semester immediately following the completion of your previous program (e.g. graduate semester 2, commence semester 1 of the following year). No other pathway options are permitted.

8.131 UniLodge @ RMIT Bundoora - Walert House Accommodation Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this Scholarship, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with UniLodge @ RMIT Bundoora
- agree to pay:
    - a bond at the commencement of your tenancy with UniLodge @ RMIT Bundoora
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
    - are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however your scholarship duration will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
        - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
        - take any leave of absence
        - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
        - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
        - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break the lease prior to the end date incurs fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes the summer vacation period and should you wish to return home during this period, you would still be liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- acknowledge that RMIT and UniLodge will respect your privacy, however disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed
- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as attending events.

When you leave UniLodge @ RMIT Bundoora you agree to:

- accept full responsibility for any damage by you to the apartment in which you have been residing
- pay the cost of any damages and additional cleaning required in the apartment once you have vacated the premises.

8.132 Victor Greenhalgh Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Victor Greenhalgh Scholarship, you:

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take a leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance, which will be viewed at the completion of each semester for the scholarship to continue. For more information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.133 Westpac Young Technologists Scholarship

If you are a recipient of the Westpac Young Technologists Scholarship, you:

- must remain enrolled as a full-time student at RMIT in an undergraduate degree for the duration of this scholarship (part-time study will only be considered in a limited number of exceptional circumstances, - note: working or having credit exemptions applied to your program are not exceptional)
- understand that leave of absences and placing your scholarship on hold may only be approved for exceptional circumstances, and if approved, for a maximum of two semesters (exceptional circumstances do not include personal travel). Approval will not be granted in the first semester of receiving the scholarship. To seek approval for your scholarship to be placed on hold due to exceptional circumstances, please email the Coursework Scholarships Office for the "Request to Retain Scholarship form" to complete
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)

- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible, including changing your program to a double degree
- must maintain a program grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 (credit average) at the end of each year for the scholarship to continue. For more information about GPAs, visit https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/results-grades/gpa
- understand that you
    - may be asked by the Westpac Scholars Trust (the donor) to engage in their activities such as promoting the scholarship, providing feedback on the scholarship program, and assisting in the further development of the scholarship program or provide the donor with any other reasonable request for information
    - must provide your LinkedIn Account name and other information reasonably requested by the donor from time to time
    - your details (address, email, phone) will be passed onto the donor and that they may contact you directly
    - must complete a report of your scholarship experience
    - the payments for your scholarship will via RMIT and not directly from the Westpac Scholars Trust
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT's Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as attending events.
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- will be a good and exemplary "ambassador" of the University and the scholarship and actively engage as an alumni member of the scholarship program, including a series of commitments for at least the first 12 months after the conclusion of the scholarship
- agree that under no circumstances will the Trust, Westpac Banking Corporation or any of its Related Bodies Corporate be liable or responsible for any loss or damage incurred by the Westpac Scholar in relation to the Scholarship, including (without limitation) any loss or damage incurred by activities pursued in connection with utilising the scholarship.

8.134 WIL Grant

If you are a recipient of any of these Grants, you:

- understand that if you do not undertake your WIL (work integrated learning) placement, you need to return the grant funds to RMIT.

8.135 Women in STEM Undergrad Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you

- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information)
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take any leave of absence
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of each semester for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress

- will need to discuss with the Coursework Scholarships Office prior to any change of program as most program changes will be ineligible (e.g. moving within “Bachelor of Engineering” degrees are permissible, moving from a Bachelor of Engineering to a Bachelor of Accounting would not be allowed)
- will not be eligible to receive any other scholarship from RMIT while in receipt of this scholarship (excluding accommodation-based scholarships)
- understand that your contact details will be shared with RMIT’s Philanthropy team who may be in contact with you about things such as meeting the donor/attending events.

8.136 Yugo Accommodation Support Scholarship

If you are a recipient of this scholarship, you:

- are required to sign a residential tenancy agreement with Yugo
- agree to pay:
    - a bond prior to the commencement of your tenancy
    - a security deposit to confirm your room booking
    - a departure cleaning fee
- will need to cover additional costs in the same manner as other residents e.g. laundry, food etc
- are required to study full-time. Part-time study may be considered for demonstrated extenuating circumstances (see section 4.3 for more information) however the duration of scholarship will not be extended
- are not able to keep this scholarship if you
    - study part-time without approved demonstrated extenuating circumstances
    - take leave
    - are unable to continue your program due to serious illness or incapacity for medical/ mental health reasons
    - have been suspended or excluded for misconduct from RMIT University
    - defer your study (defer = delay the commencement of your program to a future semester)
- must maintain satisfactory academic performance at the end of semester one for this scholarship to continue. For information about academic progress including the definition of satisfactory academic progress, visit: https://www.rmit.edu.au/students/my-course/assessment-results/academic-progress
- acknowledge that RMIT and Yugo will respect your privacy however, disclosure of information will sometimes be required to enable the operation of this scholarship. Such exchange or disclosure of personal and sensitive information is to enable the scholarship and any welfare or critical incidents affecting you and your scholarship to be responsibly managed
- must adhere to the terms of your residential tenancy agreement
- understand that a residential tenancy agreement (lease) is a legally binding document and any decision to break the lease prior to the end date incurs fees. In most cases, the tenant is responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the agreement
- understand that the residential tenancy agreement includes vacation periods and should you wish to return home during these periods, you are still liable to pay rent until the end of your agreement
- understand that this accommodation scholarship is for one year only and you will need to find alternative accommodation in the following year
- will not be eligible to receive any other accommodation scholarships while in receipt of this scholarship
- understand that your contact details will be shared with Yugo.