

What is the gathering about? This gathering is a significant opportunity for women of colour to come together and celebrate the powerful themes of liberation, collective power, joy, and resistance.

What topics will be covered in the sessions? The Theme of the 2024 event is ‘Liberation in collective power, joy and resistance.’ The topic and speakers are carefully designed around this theme. It will be an interactive, soul-lifting, truth-telling, and fun moment with many laughs and connections with like-minded sistas of colour.

Who are the event speakers and facilitators? We are thrilled to announce an incredible lineup of speakers, facilitators, and performers who will bring their talent, skills, expertise, and humour to our 2024 event. You can find the full list on our Humanitix ticket page.

Where can I find information about the event agenda and schedule? A link to the agenda and schedule will only be shared within 48 hours of the event for registered ticket holders. Be sure to purchase your ticket so you can stay informed.

I have special accessibility needs/dietary requirements; can you accommodate me? The event will be held at the fully accessible Iconic RMIT University Building. Please be sure to include your dietary requirements when registering for your tickets.

If I book my ticket online, how do I collect it? Rest assured, your tickets will be automatically sent to your email once registration is complete, making the process quick and convenient.

Can I register and buy a ticket for the event? Yes, you can register by clicking on this link.

Are discounts available for RMIT students or staff? RMIT students can also enjoy a 75% discount on tickets, and staff get 50% discount on all ticket categories. Please refer to the promotional page for more pricing information.

What parking arrangements are available at the venue? Due to road works around Swanston Street, attendees are encouraged to use public transport. The nearest train station is a two-block walk from Melbourne Central station. If approaching from Melbourne Central train station, the building is on the left-hand side of Swanston Street. Note that some road works are now obscuring some views and pathways in Melbourne. Trams run the length of Swanston Street, with a stop outside B80.

Where can I get up-to-date information on the event? Our Instagram @wocmelbourne is the primary hub for information; please follow and like to stay current.
