

Develop Cultural Intelligence online with peers from around the world

CQ for Students is an interactive online programme that allows you to develop Cultural Intelligence (CQ). Drawing on the rich diversity that exists across all the RMIT campuses globally, you will come together to learn with and from each other through a dynamic, interactive online programme. You will benefit from insight and learnings from senior leaders from organizations such as Google, Amazon, EY as well as your peers from universities across the globe.

The programme takes four hours to complete, and is spread across two weeks. As a result you will:

- Become equipped with the leadership skills to build relationships and deliver results across cultural boundaries
- Develop deeper self-awareness through uncovering cultural influences and their impact on behaviour
- Be better able to inspire and motivate diverse groups with different perspectives

“Through the program I learned how to communicate with people who are different from me not only in terms of cultural but also academic backgrounds; and trying to come up with a collective solution to a challenge.”

Annisa Istighfari, Student, RMIT

Where and When:

Four online courses over 2018

Apply Now:

Register your interest with RMIT at
<http://bit.ly/GLPGlobal>
